

LIVESLEY LOSS IS ESTIMATED AT $50,000

Covered by Insurance and Remainder of Crop Will Be Cared For

The loss which T. A. Livesley sustained by the fire which destroyed several of his hop kilns and the adjoining cooling rooms and all of the hops that had been picked in 11 days is variously estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000. All of the kilns were full of hops and the cooling rooms were full of hops and the hops had been in operation only since Tuesday but all of the hops that had been kilned were destroyed, also with the two kilns, and hop supplies that were stored in the hop houses. It is estimated that nearly 1,000 bales of hops were burned which at the present market price are worth from $25 to $30 per bale.

The loss, however, will be nearly covered by insurance though there are numerous implements and supplies that cannot be secured at this time without considerable loss of time when an occasion further loss. There is still no definite view of the origin of the fire, though it is viewed as the fact that 14 hop houses were burned in 24 hours yesterday in this section incendiaries are strongly suspected in some quarters of this hop growing district.

There had been reported some discontent in the Livesley yard among the pickers because they were being paid 40 cents per box this year instead of 30 as in former years but 40 cents is the prevailing price throughout the valley this year and the discontent in the Livesley yard was no stronger than in other yards and no threats of a strike have been made by discontented pickers.

Mr. Livesley has made arrangements to dry part of the hops yet to be picked in the kilns of neighboring hop growers who have finished picking and as he has two kilns left of his own it is probable that he will be able to care for the remainder of the hop crop without further loss.

Hop Growers Arm.—Fearing further depredations by discharged employees who are blamed for several incendiary fires, hop growers in this section today armed men with shotguns to guard their properties. No one is allowed to enter the grounds of the hop yards without a special permit.

The Southern Pacific warehouse here, where many of the growers have their hops stored, is being guarded by special policemen with a day and night shift.

No appeal has yet been made to the governor for state protection.

Surviving her, besides the husband, are six children. The body is at the undertaking parlors of Webb & Cough, and will be shipped Monday to Dundee for burial.

KLAWITTER SUSPENDED.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—"Dutch" Klawitter, Oakland pitcher, has been indefinitely suspended, Manager Elliott of the Oakland announced today. Elliott declined to state his reasons for suspending Klawitter.

It is generally understood Elliott thinks Klawitter was indifferent to work.

SERVICE FIGHTS IN RANKS.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Robert W. Service, the well known poet is fighting with a Canadian regiment in France. David Scott, of New York, today received a post card from Service stating he is at the front.

CITY NEWS

Forest Fires are getting under headway one mile west from Pratum this afternoon according to parties just in from that section. The westerly winds are whipping the flames towards the town and there is much alarm in that neighborhood. Grasses and timber are burning fast and all the farmers as well as the people in Pratum are out fighting the flames.

The degree team of the Yeoman, Homestead No. 5, of Minneapolis, are in the city today and will put on their exhibition work this evening at the Yeoman lodge. This team of 20 is the prize team of the country and is making a tour of the west, with but two stops in Oregon, Portland and this city. Unusual interest has been shown in the fine work of this degree team, and representatives from the Yeoman lodges at Dallas, Independence, Stayton, Aumsville, Turner and Silverton will be here to witness their work.

A compromise was effected between the county court of Lane county and the Southern Pacific railroad in the matter of the action brought by the county against the railroad for safety devices at a dangerous crossing one and one-half miles north of Goshen in Lane county. The case was brought before the Public Utilities commission and after conducting a hearing in the matter it was brought out that an underground crossing could be established at a point about 200 feet south of the present dangerous crossing. Both parties to the controversy agreed to share equally in the expense of building the new crossing and the roads leading to it and the necessary right of way has been secured and the case was dismissed without prejudice.

The local Shriners are arranging for a meeting to be held next Tuesday, when plans will be formulated for the entertaining of visiting Shriners to the state fair on Shriners' day, Saturday, October 2. An invitation will be sent to all the Shriners of Portland, Roseburg, Eugene, Albany and Corvallis to be present on Shriners' day and assist in the day's program. Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the visitors, when will include a street parade, lunch at the Marion and tours of the state institutions and visits to the fair in the afternoon. In Salem there are perhaps 150 Shriners, and as many more in the county, and if the nobles of the Order of the Mystic Shrine from Portland and the valley cities respond to the invitation, there should be fully 1,000 Shriners here for the last day of the fair.

District Sunday School Convention at Turner

The Turner District Sunday School convention met yesterday at Turner in the Methodist church, President Moore presiding. Rev. James Elvin, president of the county association, delivered an address in the afternoon on "The Organized Sunday School Work." and Rev. McConnell, the newly elected minister of the Christian church at Dallas, spoke on "Work Among Young Women." During the afternoon session, the Rev. H. E. Stover of the Central Congregational church of Salem, sang two solos. State secretary, Rev. C. W. Phipps, delivered an address, talking for his subject, "The Seven Pointed Star." The session was pointed out, commented on, warmly, enthusiastically, alert, conversational, happy, evangelical and reliable. The evening session was in charge of the Rev. James Elvin of the First Congregational church of this city. The state secretary, Mr. Phipps, delivered the address of the evening, giving an account of his trip to Zurich, Switzerland, when he went as delegate to attend the World Sunday school convention.

For the coming year, the following officers were elected: J. W. Hadley, president; John Calmer, vice president; Rena Mickey, secretary and treasurer. Miss Mickey is a daughter of the minister of the Methodist church at Turner.

MAY FORCE TELEPHONE COMPANIES TO JOIN LINES IN PORTLAND

Public Service League Asks Public Utilities Commission To Act

An attempt to force physical connection of the telephone systems of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company and the Home Telephone & Telegraph company of Portland, was begun today by a complaint that is filed at the office of the State public utilities commission by the Public Service League of Portland through the attorneys of the league, Oswald West and Claude McCulloch.

It is stated in the petition, which was signed by Ross M. Plummer, as president of the league, and about 100 heads of business houses in Portland, that in the hotels of the city of Portland there are two telephone companies have installed switchboards which will permit an interchange of service and a guest of the hotel may talk to any party on any other line in the city of either system but the complaint alleges that this privilege is denied to all other subscribers of both companies. The complainants hold that this is discrimination and that the two companies should be compelled to provide an interchanging system.

The commission will conduct a hearing in the matter in the near future in Portland where it is expected that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company will enter a vigorous objection to the petition as this company has about four times as many subscribers in Portland as the other company.

Nine Life Certificates Issued To Teachers

Nine life certificates for teaching were issued by Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. A. Churchill, during the past week. Elita Dillard, Ger. C. Winters, Edna D. Condon and Bessie M. Goyette received life certificates for any work excepting in a four-year high school, based on graduation from the Oregon Normal school. Four graduates of the Oregon Agricultural College were granted life special certificates: Ira Stokes, Ethel G. Yates and Winifred Patterson to teach domestic science and domestic art, and G. G. Dewey to teach agriculture. E. J. Mayer, a graduate of the Colorado Agricultural College was granted a life special certificate to teach manual training.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Judge Galloway today granted a divorce to Beryl Logan from Homer Logan, and awarded the custody of Dorothy Logan, the six months old daughter to the plaintiff. The couple were married in Salem, May 1, 1913, and the plaintiff alleged cruel and inhuman treatment. There were no children or property rights involved. Carey F. Martin represented the plaintiff.

There are still a number of teachers in this county who have not complied with the provisions of the school law which requires that they file their certificates and contracts with the county school superintendent before the first day of school according to the report of County Superintendent W. M. Smith. The law provides that the salary for the time school starts until the contract and certificate is filed may be deducted if the teachers do not file certificates before school starts. The first day of school is the limit for filing these papers. Most of the schools of this county will begin their fall term September 27 or October 4 though a few schools start September 20. The provisions of the filing law do not apply to teachers in the Salem schools which is a district of the first class.

A marriage license was issued today at the office of the county clerk to Marcus S. Cooper, a laborer of Independence, and Helen Louise Larsen, also of Independence.

The final argument was heard this morning in department No. 2 of the circuit court in the case of W. L. Gilbert against the Astoria Lumber company. This is an old case that has been pending in the courts for several years and began over a partnership agreement to purchase lumber, erect a house, buy a lot, and divide the proceeds received from rental. All went well until the house burned which appears to have been an unforeseen incident although provision had been made for insurance. There was a lumber bill of about $500 which was claimed by the defendant who tied up the $1,000 of insurance money in litigation and it was the distribution of the insurance money and the liability for the loss of the lumber in the house that caused the law suit. Attorney Carey F. Martin is appearing for the plaintiff and George G. Bingham for the defendant.

Peter Zielski has brought suit in the circuit court against Alfred Halderman to collect the sum of $200 alleged due on a promissory note. It is stated in the complaint that the interest on the note has not been paid since November 1, 1913, and the plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $200 with interest and $25 attorney's fees. Lots 7, 8, 9, and 10 in block 4 Fulmore addition to Salem excepting part of block 7, were attached in connection with the case. Attorney George G. Bingham appears for the plaintiff.

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 11.—More than half million dollars has today been donated by British Columbia to the patriotic fund for the Canadian soldiers at the front.

FOREIGN NATIONS WANT ONE BILLION

Allied Finance Commission Trying to Make American Loan

New York, Sept. 11.—Conference between the allied finance commission and leading American bankers, over the proposal to obtain from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 loan in this country continued today.

Not until the situation has been thoroughly canvassed will the commission and the bankers get down to brass tacks, and this is likely to consume several days.

A cool half billion is the least that the allied commission wants in the way of a loan, but it was said today that, if possible, they wish to get an entire billion. There are, however, the considerable doubts in Wall Street that the latter plan would be possible. Whether as a threat or as an actual situation, the story was spread in financial circles that, unless the commission gets what it wants in the way of a loan to establish credit for purchases here, and to adjust demoralized foreign exchange, the allies will seek many of their purchases in other countries, notably South America.

There was a strong belief, though, that the negotiations would result satisfactorily to all concerned.

The commissions meeting today was held in Morgan's private library in formal, and passed more of a business gathering.

It was understood that the series of formal conferences to arrange the proposed loan will begin Monday. Bankers from every part of America are expected to attend.

Wall Street Feels Effect of War Talk

New York, Sept. 11.—Prices on the stock exchange again opened today under the influence of renewed diplomatic tension with Germany. Losses at the start were fractional, except with some war stocks.

Ten recoveries were general. Renewed selling then sent prices down until declines of a cent or more were numerous, and this lasted until the last half hour, when they again went upward.

The days' selling was evidently for professional account, and recoveries indicated the absence of sales from any other source.

On the whole the market could not be said to resemble anything like acute apprehension at the new turn in the foreign situation. Foreign exchange declined three cents, but there was no business of consequence therein.

The bank statement chiefly reflected the effect of the silver and a half millions in gold delivered here on London accounts.

Parents Give Consent To Marriage by Telegraph

Two youthful adventurers on the sea of matrimony applied at the office of the county clerk this afternoon for a marriage license when they struck one of the many rough spots which beset the course of true love. The groom was but 20 years of age but was accompanied by his father who gave his consent to the marriage but the bride to be still lacked a few months of the required 18 years. As the couple had come to Salem from Marion with the avowed intention of taking the final step today they summoned the aid of a telegram and after a short time a telegram reached the office of the county clerk giving full consent to the marriage from the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Bower, of Marion.

The young man was Hugh Francis Cook, a farmer of Marion, and Perry Elaine Bower, also of Marion, is the name of the young woman.

SEVERE STORMS AT EUGENE.

Eugene, Or., Sept. 11.—Eugene was visited by a severe rain and thunder storm late yesterday afternoon, but it appeared to be local in extent. Rain fell heavily, the wind blew hard and there were frequent flashes of lightning. As far as has been learned no damage resulted except from the blowing down of a few signs and fences. The storm came up suddenly.

THE MARKETS

Wheat and oats have practically no market, for the simple reason no grain is moving, and buyers have scarcely any basis for a price. Judging from the general market prices, wheat may be said to be worth 70 cents with no takers, as the mills and feed houses are afraid to buy at any price. Yesterday an offer of 66 cents was made for one load of wheat, which was refused. Eggs are surely advancing, as today the grocers are offering 25 cents in cash and 27 cents in trade. No change is recorded in butter or in any other market lines.
